

animals

1) Notice the use of the word 'turn 'in the first line, "I think I could turn and live with animals. " What is the poet turning from ? Or why did the poet feel more at home with animals than human ? Or why does the poet want to take a turn ?

Ans:- The poet is turning away from living in the world of human beings. He believes that animals are much better than humans as they don't possess any human vices. He finds animals more placid and self contained and therefore, he wants to live with animals.

2) Mention three things that humans do and animals don't. Or what is the difference between animals and human regard their attitude to their condition, sins and God ?

Ans:- I) Humans complain and cry about the miseries and sorrows they face . (ii) Humans lie awake in the night thinking about their wrongdoings. (iii) Humans also keep telling others about their religiousness and duties towards God .

3) why does the poet show a preference for living with the animals ? Or why does the poet want to live with animals ?

Ans:- The poet says that it is better to live with animals as they show tokens of goodness. They are peaceful, self-contained and happy. Animals show innate goodness which is lacked in human beings.

4) what is the relevance of 'tokens'in the poem animals ? Or How do animals accept their condition ? Or why is the poet so much impressed with animals ?

Ans:- Animals show tokens of goodness. They are self -contained, peaceful, thankful and happy creatures. Animals are not unhappy and indeed, bring out tokens of man's good nature lost long ago. Animals do not grumble about their lives.

5) write the central idea of the poem 'Animals '.

Ans:-The central idea of the poem is the difference between human beings and animals. While they both were initially similar in their innate goodness, the man had lost it over the years, while animals remain the same.

6) How are animals better than humans, according to the poet ?

animals

Ans:-- According to the poet, the animals are more humane than humans. They have no such bad qualities as humans have. In their world, all are happy, equal and content .

7) How are animals different from humans about owning things or kneeling to one another ?

Ans:- Human beings are mad about possessing things. But animals don't care for possession. It is madness only for humans. They don't kneel to others as human do. For them all are equal.

8) why do humans keep awake in the dark and weep for their sins while animals never do such things ?

Ans :- Animals have a clear conscience. They are not confused or muddle-headed. Humans are ambitious, greedy and suffer from the mania of possessing and owning things. Their sins and misdeeds don't allow them to enjoy a sound sleep at night.

9) why do animals don't kneel down to their fellow beings or ancestors ? How do humans react to them ?

Ans:- Animals don't show unnecessary respect to their fellow beings and to their ancestors. They don't indulge in such unnecessary civilities and formalities. On the other hand, human express their respect not only to their ancestors but also to their fellow beings. They have a tendency to indulge in unnecessary civilities and decencies.